

News Release

14 September 2009

New iPhone Web App launched by One News Page Latest global news headlines now accessible from Apple iPhone

News headlines portal www.OneNewsPage.com launches today its iPhone Web App, providing quick and easy access to breaking stories from over 1,200 trusted news sources from around the world.

The new free iPhone app is featured on the Apple website (www.apple.com/webapps/news/latestnewsfromonenewspage.html). Alternatively, it is directly accessible by pointing an iPhone or iPod Touch browser to the www.OneNewsPage.com website. One News Page provides live headlines on all major news topics. Around 20,000 separate news items are added daily to a growing archive that stands today at well over 4 million stories.

The latest news headlines available on the iPhone are in popular categories including sports, celebrities and business.

Users of the Web App can search news stories using a key word facility, and can also email chosen headlines to friends & colleagues in seconds.

By clicking to the originating news source, which includes providers such as Reuters, CNN and Associated Press, users can read stories in full.

Dr Marc Pinter-Krainer, CEO of One News Page, says:

“We are pleased to launch the new iPhone application in response to popular demand. There are now over 50 million iPhones and iPod Touch devices sold globally, so this is a significant new platform for OneNewsPage.com’s content. We made our web app simple and intuitive to use, and are naturally delighted that Apple is featuring our Web App on its site.”
